A CASE FOR KIN

Town and country mouse fighting crime in the French countryside.

Caroline and François, played by Sylvie Testud and Samuel Labarthe, come from a dynasty of cops. Although they're siblings, they form an unorthodox pair of detectives, with methods that complement each other quite well even though sometimes conflicting. She is on the "hyper" side, thinking and acting like a typical member of the anti-crime squad of Paris' notorious Seine-Saint-Denis suburb; he is the tortoise of the fable, moving slowly but steadily, using his knowledge of animals to decipher people's behavior. This "town and country mouse" tag team appears ruthless, tight, unshakable but as they go about their investigations, they can't help replaying their sibling quarrels, which reflect their respective emotional wounds, yet to be fully healed.

VIGILANTES

The first 72 hours are all that counts.

A former lawbreaker, Castaneda is also a loving father with a somewhat headstrong personality, who hasn't always walked on the right side of life. But these days he has only one goal: to give his daughter the very best he can. To achieve that, he takes odd jobs and does everything in his power to conform to society's norms. But things take a turn when his daughter goes missing and he is prepared to do whatever it takes to find her. When someone disappears, the first few hours are critical, but the police stations are understaffed... So, Castaneda decides to take matters into his own hands, and investigate himself with the help of other individuals, normal everyday people without any diplomas, or privileged backgrounds, who are just willing to scour the countryside to track down the kidnapper.

Anti-establishment, resourceful, and very much in touch with the people, could Castaneda and his team be in a much better position than the police to find her?

SPITFIRE

SPITFIRE is a dark thriller shot in the urban and obscure parts off Mallorca, the largest island on the coast of Spain, where an ancient war between old families has resurfaced. JEALOUSY IS ETERNAL

8 X 26' DRAMA SHAKE

Adolescence is a tragedy. Yet, thinking about it, it's also a comedy. So, to tell the story of adolescence, why not rely on the greatest playwright of all time?

In this series, Thomas, our Othello, is no longer the brave leader of the Venetian army, but the unflappable leader of a Parkour crew. By his side, we find the good-humoured Michele and the quick-witted Gaia. They all get along well, until they meet Beatrice Virgili, the most beautiful girl in school, who both Thomas and Gaia end up falling for. When an intense romance develops between Beatrice and Thomas, Gaia, struck with envy towards her friend, hatches a meticulous plan to separate the two lovers. Gaia's underhanded persuasion tactics take effect and Thomas' insecurities erupt into a blind jealousy that ends up destroying his love for Beatrice and his friendship with Michele. In a season finale where no one comes out on top, the real tragedy for the protagonists is their awareness of adulthood and their sense of disenchantment whilst also having the opportunity to investigate their own frailties, work through their mistakes or, simply grow up!

PROFESSION
COMÉDIEN

Bertrand Uzeel has just finished co-writing his first one-man show, "Adopte-moi si tu peux". He's preparing his first show, in which he tells his own story as an adopted child in a cynical and acidic way, around the multi-layered subjects of abandonment, integration, positive racism and his multiple neuroses. But before that, to start making a name for himself and communicating about his show, Bertrand created a series on social networks: "Profession Comédien", where he tries to gather as much advice as possible from people in the business, but nothing goes according to plan.

A perfect art of casting... The sensual and touching beauty of Julia de Nunez, her slow phrasing and her hoarse voice turn Bardot into a shock of cinema, sorry, of television.

KIDS IN CRIME

One of 2022's most successful shows for TV2 : high energy and punchy episodes.

Variety

An unusual coming-of-age series.

Deadline

AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS

It's all here—exotic locales, wit, charming characters and absorbing episode arcs.

The New York Post

An ode to travel... A big, lively and timely adaptation.

The Guardian

The series stands as a perfect example of television that can bring the whole family together.

Drama Quaterly

ONE OF US

A great cocktail of authenticity, audacity and joy.
